

In the innocent guise of a Sunday closing law there will appear on the ballot Nov. 4 a proposition which, if accepted by the people of California, will mean first blood for the proponents of Sunday blue laws. The proposition is No. 26 on the ballot and should by all means be defeated.

A careful analysis of the proposition will reveal the guiding hands of the Lord's Day Alliance and the California State Church Federation, and kindred organizations, working through the barbers' associations, who seek to secure a Sunday closing law — although there is no existing law or ruling under which they are obliged to remain open on Sunday. It is plainly an attempt to cram the nucleus of a very thorough blue law down the throats of a misled public.

Supporters of the proposition will point out the fact that certain exemptions will protect the rights of the people. Hooley! The exemptions are vague. For instance, the druggist, who is called upon at all hours of the day and night may, on Sunday, sell drugs, medicines and surgical appliances, but should he overstep himself and supply a hot water bottle, an atomizer or a bottle of ink, he may, in a court sympathetic to the blue law, be adjudged guilty of breaking the law and be fined from $25 to $250 or sent to jail for as long as 180 days. Under proposition No. 26, cream may be sold on Sunday but—sell ice cream and you go to jail!

This Sunday closing law, with its 18 exemptions, at first thought appears innocent. But it is designed to be the entering wedge to a more drastic Sunday law. The camel will get his head into the tent; then all that will be needed for a strong Sunday blue law will be to remove some of the exemptions, and the camel—head, body, legs and tail—is all in. All that is exactly what is planned.

The aims of the religious blue law element are well represented by the Rev. Harry L. Bowlby, national secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance. The Public Ledger (Philadelphia), Nov. 28, 1920, quotes him as follows: "Of course we shall back no law that would compel a man or a woman to attend church. But we believe (now listen to what will become of the exemptions) that if we take away a man's motor car, his golf sticks, his Sunday newspaper, his horses, his pleasure boats, amusement houses, and parks, and prohibit him from playing outdoor games or witnessing field sports, he naturally will drift back to church."

The same paper quotes Mr. Bowlby as saying further: "We don't propose to legislate people into church. We propose by legislation to make it easier for people to go to church." How? Through the process of elimination. His ultimate aim is to close all pleasure resorts, theaters, parks, etc., making it "easier for people to go to church."

From the press of California:—

"If this idiotic law is ever passed, 'yours truly' would just as soon spend every Sunday in the county jail as under all the blue restrictions of this puritanical proposal." — Los Angeles Record.

"Going to church is perfectly right and proper and that is exactly what the defenders of the Sunday blue laws are driving at—to force people to go to church, whether they like it or not." — Kerman News.

"We do not favor so-called blue laws, and we do not favor Sunday closing. The churches cannot legislate themselves into popularity by closing everything else on the Sabbath." — Sacramento Union.

"Just as soon as I can, I will get out of this state."

Campbell Press Big Contest Comes To Close Wednesday Evening

WOMEN'S C. OF C. MEET PRECEEDS CHAMBER SESSION

An informal meeting of the women's department of the local Chamber of Commerce was held Monday evening at 7 o'clock. Mrs. Mary Lanphear, chairman of the membership committee, presided over the meeting. Mrs. Lanphear informed the assemblage of the improvements being made along Campbell avenue by this department. She stressed the idea that if the women would work together, their importance to this community would be immeasurable.

Following this meeting a regular session of the Chamber of Commerce was called to order by President T. A. Cutting.

A brief discussion was had on the possibilities of holding a Santa Clara valley historical pageant as part of the afternoon's program on Old Settlers day, Feb. 22. More definite plans will be made at a later date.

Four new members were accepted and taken into the organization. They were Dr. J. E. Fanning, Dr. C. E. Farman, Mrs. Lillian Voigt and L. Peck of Los Gatos.

S. N. Hedegard gave a report on highway improvements and remarked on the need of widening Hamilton avenue.

Dr. F. R. Anderson reported on his findings concerning the drawing up of a new lighting system. He stated that he could get no co-operation from the commissioners because their facilities were inadequate to take care of a larger district.

B. W. Perrins, street lighting representative, and William P. Bear of the industrial current department of the P. G. & E. offices, spoke to the Chamber on the advisability of changing the present street lights of 100 c. p. to 250 c. p., costing only seven cents more per hundred for two and one-half times as much light.

The question of a larger fire district, which has become an important factor in the community, was again brought before the chamber. A heated discussion, resulting in no action, gave the members something to work on. Dan Yeager suggested circulating another petition, as the previous petition did not cover the territory that should have fire protection. Entering into the argument, S. N. Hedegard stated that the fire district should first be enlarged, then new equipment would be more easily obtained to take grandest sort of encouragement to the professional blue law promoters to try at the next election to put over laws forbidding Sunday baseball, Sunday movies, Sunday motoring, Sunday cigar selling, and everything else on Sunday except Sunday church attendance. And then what would the barbers do with themselves on their compulsory Sundays off? — Palo Alto Times.

"This is just another example of the American habit of minding the business of other people. No doubt the religious organizations are interested in securing the adoption of this law in the hope that inability to go anywhere or do anything on Sunday would induce more people to go to church." — The (San Francisco) Recorder.

Let every freedom-loving person in the state go to the polls Nov. 4 determined to defeat proposition No. 26. California is at present one of the three bright spots in this country where no Sunday blue laws hamper the activities of free citizens. Let us keep it so.

CONTESTANTS SO CLOSELY BUNCHED STILL IMPOSSIBLE TO PICK THE WINNER

At 8 o'clock Wednesday evening the Campbell Press' great prize contest which has been waged with much spirit and excitement throughout the past few weeks, will come to a final close, with the count of the votes and announcement of the winners by the board of judges.

The judges elected for this important office by popular voice of the young women competing are Walter Smiley, A. E. Bargas, A. J. Robins and W. H. Morgan, Jr., all of this city.

Less than a day remains before the Press' marathon will become a mere memory—a bright page in the files of this publication. As the time grows shorter, as we near the final lap in this exciting race, so much more it behooves those who are interested not to relax. Just a little extra work at the eleventh hour is very likely to cause the contestant at the bottom of the list, last count, to emerge from the field as winner.

As the time approaches for the ringing down of the final curtain, the Press and the campaign manager very cordially invite all who are interested in this great marathon to be present at the campaign office this Wednesday night at eight o'clock, when the final count of the votes is made by the judges.

Who will lead in the last count? Time will tell!

A great deal of merriment was enjoyed when each member was given three minutes to tell the most interesting event of her summer vacation. Each member brought a dish of her favorite recipe, samples of which were passed and the recipes copied.

Mrs. G. W. Page, the newly-elected president, graciously presented each past president with a beautiful basket of flowers. Past presidents present were Mesdames J. J. Pardee, George Burrows, L. J. Carboni, Mark Purmort, C. W. Toles of San Francisco, Lois Corning of Oakland and Wendell Thomas of San Jose.

The Ada Rebekah Stitching club will hold an apron sale at Lea's store Thursday, Oct. 16.

Long Beach was the last point of call, and they returned via the coast route and are now living in San Jose.

While the barbers associations, backed by the churches, are appealing to the citizens of California to vote for the Sunday closing law, which will appear on the ballot as No. 26, the people of the east are revolting against the Sunday "blue" laws.

The state of Massachusetts, the home of the Sunday "blue" laws, two years ago revolted against the Puritan rule and on a public referendum repealed the Sunday "blue" laws of that state by a majority vote of three to one. Does California want what Massachusetts citizens are tired of, and have discarded?

A number of cities in Pennsylvania and in New Jersey where the Sunday "blue" laws still reign supreme under the domination of the Lord's Day Alliance of America, have revolted against these Sunday laws. Recently the cities of Erie and Altoona, Pa., had a public referendum and voted against the Sunday laws by a majority of four to one. The city of Trenton, N. J., has also revolted against the New Jersey Sunday "blue" law, and the counties of Hudson and Essex have likewise revolted against it. There is now a strong popular movement in both the state of Pennsylvania and the state of New Jersey calling for a repeal of these antiquated laws.

The cities of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh through their city councils are now conducting hearings to sound out public sentiment, with the objective of securing a repeal of the Sunday law in their state. A similar effort is being put forth in the state of New Jersey, and hearings are being held before city councils and before the legislative committees of the house and senate of the state legislature in Trenton. The people in both of these states are desirous of enjoying more of the spirit of liberty so prevalent in the west.

The Anti-Blue Law committee of Philadelphia, made up of some of the leading citizens of that city has already secured 300,000 signatures in that city alone demanding the repeal of the Sunday law. The Stanley theaters in the state of Pennsylvania have also secured a list of over 500,000 signatures asking for the repeal of this law. The whole question will be brought before the legislatures in both the state of Pennsylvania and the state of New Jersey the coming session of the legislatures, and an effort will be made to throw off this Puritan yoke which has held them in bondage for so many years.

The mayor of Philadelphia in a recent speech said: "The 1794 'blue' laws are out of date and out of harmony with the present-day needs of this city's population."

Frank E. Luce, a prominent manufacturer in the city of Philadelphia, speaking to the members of the Friendship Liberal league of that city, said: "The closed Sunday and the 'blue' laws, because of their restrictions, cause crime and debauchery which would not otherwise occur. Our good clergy have the idea that if they close everything else the common people will have no place to go except their churches. They are thus fostering crime and debauchery, for it is behind closed doors that most crimes have been committed or planned."

Francis J. Walsh, an attorney of Philadelphia who stands at the movement of the 'blue' laws, says that Philadelphia is a "blue" strangle. Get Det. cor. 11

A pall of gloom lingers over a week-end of football that splintered more sectional and national title hopes than ever before in the history of the game. (Oh for a pal that grabbed onto some of the short-end stuff!)

That highly vaunted Thundering Herd from the distended hamlet of Los Angeles, so the legend holds, ventured from behind its walls of newspaper protection last Saturday and chanced upon an inoffensive looking Cougar. Now, because it was the manly thing to do (the Herd was all bull, you will understand), the Thundering Ones engaged the placid feline in combat, a most improper doing, since cats and trouble are generally considered synonyms where the head is given to periods of activity. And so the Thundering Herd, less discriminate than was formerly perceived, after being chivvied and battered in a manner not convenient to relate, became a drivelling drove. Such is the legend as asserted in Poietesme.

Meanwhile, the success boys were having their several difficulties in Minnesota. Rothert and Moffat whipped off tackle or romped the ends with ease, Hillman cranked-up and rapped center for very pleasant yardage—in midfield. But let their goal be threatened and the Gophers were well might impregnable. The result was not entirely satisfactory.

The showing of California against the Gaels was a specious revelation to Bear supporters. The redemption game displayed Henry Shalbach, junior college transfer, in the role of one of the coast's most formidable backs. He will bear watching.

Playboy America, spend-thrift son of a miserly father, Industry, swept with dazzling grandeur into baseball's amusement galleries last week, dumped practically a million government-sealed slugs into the coffers of an exclusive charity, and bounced homeward, cloyed in a vague memory of a good act and a couple of thrills, returned value. Hard times—ah, yes.

And yet, it is altogether possible that Connie Mack, the grand old man of baseball, will be a vivid memory when Henry and John D. are just two of the boys tallying centuries on clover roots.

The principal features of the series, aside from Ed Rommel's scintillating vulgarity and the commissioners' goodly cut of the receipts, were the brilliant pitching of George Earnshaw, the Athletic chucker who sent so many batters back to the bench mumbling little naughtiness's, and the marvelous offensive empetus furnished by the ravenous bats of Messrs. Simmons, Foxx and Gelbert. Jim Bottomley, which player, by some act of kindness, retains his nominal status as clean-up man for the Cards, was the printe doak of one more series.

diet that the Sunday laws of the state of Pennsylvania and of the city of Philadelphia kept people from coming to Philadelphia over Sunday, and that practically all the traveling men and many of the city people took their exit over the week-end to some other city where they enjoyed greater freedom. Statistics were given showing that nearly 50,000 people left Philadelphia every Sunday for some pleasure resort outside of the state.

If the majority of the citizens of California on Nov. 4 vote in favor of the barbers' "Sunday closing law," No. 26, it will be the entering wedge to more drastic legislation which in the end will close up all amusements, parks and pleasure resorts, stop Sunday baseball, Sunday newspapers, etc. Then where will the tourists go who are now flocking into California? Where will our own good citizens go if they want to spend Sunday in recreation and pleasure? Does California want to shackle its citizens with Sunday "blue" laws such as Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Mas-

Following the business meeting the girls played basketball.

sachusetts don't want?

The Californians want to watch their step at the coming election and vote "NO" on referendum No. 26, if they want their state to continue in the first rank as the mecca for tourists. Since the east is trying to throw off the shackles of the religious legislation of the past,
it would be most unfortunate for the people of California to place similar shackles upon their own limbs.

Vote NO on proposition 26.

Mr. Thielke has called a meeting for next Saturday to discuss the county orchestral festival, and the plans for institute week.

A group of the Campbell Hi orchestra will play for the Parent-Teacher's association. The meeting will be held next Tuesday afternoon in the Campbell
Grammar School auditorium.

The Girls' league of Campbell Hi have organized a bureau for work. Many of our girls are in need of work to help them acquire an education.
They work any hours out of school. Mrs. Rae, who is the dean of girls, is the leader. The girls who accept this work are capable. Mrs. Rae requests that anyone having work for girls,
such as caring for children,
housework, and especially holiday work, please inform her through the school.

Three of our girls attended
the County Tennis tournament, held at Palo Alto Saturday. El-canor Wood and Cora Blakesly, who entered as A players, were victorious. Alice Blakesley, entering singles as a B player,
was defeated.

Both of Campbell's teams,
the 110's and the 120's, were again defeated last Friday night. The score of the 110's was 18-6; 120's, 21-12.

Lineup, Campbell 110's, De-Selle, left forward; Marone, center; Mirraseau, right guard;
Lear, left guard. Mirraseau and Lear played an excellent game,
both on defense and offense.
De Selle and Lea work smoothly together as forwards. Mar-one is a good strong center who follows the ball constantly. De-Selle scored all six points for the 110's. It is still very early in the season, and by mid-season it is expected that the 110's

will be a hard team to beat.

The Campbell 120 pounders' line-up consisted of Buccellato, right forward; Furtado, left forward; Compton, center. Hughes placed as right forward and Hocking at left guard. The strength of the 120's is largely due to the excellent stone wall which Hughes and Hocking, our two heavy guards, present to the offensive of the opposing teams. Furtado deals clever passes to Buccellato who drops them into the bucket with perfect technique. Compton lines up to his name and is a competent center.

The preceding week San Jose was victorious over Campbell's two teams. The score of the 110 pounders was 9-8, while the 120 pound quint was on the short end of a 13-8 tally.

Nineteen girls of last years' home nursing and hygiene class are proud possessors of the Red Cross awards. These awards were won by passing an examination given by Mrs. A. C. Girard, the instructor, and passed upon by the Red Cross board of the San Jose chapter. Although these awards were won last year, they were not received until this fall. The class also included a course in first aid. The winners are Bonnie Arnold, Grace Amato, Phyllis Angelo, An Ban, Hazel Baker, Muriel Crothers, Helen Charling, Katharine Eitzert, Helen Gartner, Pauline Glumaz, Edith Keesling, Edith De Rose, Mildred Johnson, Rhoda Pyle, Katharine Stojanovich, Eva Silaci, Nadine Wendt and Iris York.

The student body enjoyed a program and meeting today. Betty Keesling entertained with a coronet solo, accompanied by Gladys Neilson. Miss Carson gave an interesting account of her recent trip to Europe. Following Miss Carson's talk we were entertained by Miss Ruby Howes, who gave us a picture of the trip she took this summer to Europe.

Miss Lois Lloyd, popular student, has been named business manager of the school publication, "The Oriole." Daniel Redmond was elected editor.

The Ada Rebekah lodge of Campbell will hold a benefit card party Saturday, Oct. 25.

Mrs. Major King of Twin Lakes is visiting her parents,
Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Smith.

HE CAPTURES CRIMINALS!

Sheriff George W. Lyle and the two bandits who robbed the California Theater in San Jose this spring of $3,800. A description of the bandits was the only clue the sheriff had. He trailed them to Waco, Tex., had them arrested, and drove them over 2,200 miles of lonely road to San Jose for trial. Both are now in the penitentiary.
